HISTORY OF HOWEY-IN-THE-HILLS

Many visitors of Mission Inn Resort & Club imagine that the resort property was once a Spanish mission or perhaps a private estate. The actual story of Howey-in-the-Hills dates back to the early 1900's at a time when Florida's citrus industry was in its infancy. In 1916, William J. Howey from Illinois purchased 60,000 acres of prime land in Lake County with the intent of creating the largest horticultural empire in the world. The area and climate were perfect for citrus growth offering rich, sandy soil, excellent drainage and relative protection from frost due to the 100 square miles of surrounding fresh water lakes. He then formed the Howey Company establishing its headquarters in Howey-in-the-Hills with a sales force of some 200 people covering the southeast.

Northern investors traveled to the area by river boats and barges through a series of fresh water lakes from Jacksonville to Howey's sprawling tent city that housed early laborers and settlers. Upon arrival they could purchase acreage, contract with the Howey Company to clear the land, plant 48 citrus trees per acre, harvest and ship the fruit and return all profits to the new owners.

In 1917 the 75-room Hotel Floridan was constructed at the town's southern border on the Howey plantation to provide lodging for visiting investors. Within two years the area was expanding so rapidly that George O'Neil of Chicago, Illinois, a renowned golf course architect, builder, and player was commissioned to construct a golf course to provide recreation for the inhabitants and as an incentive for further growth and development. George O'Neil envisioned a spectacular course with hills, lakes and woods.

Meanwhile...in 1936, Mr. Nick Beucher of Wilmette, Illinois began his sales career with the Morton Salt Company selling salt to grocery stores, bakeries, meat markets, and feed companies in Chicago's western suburbs. After four years of being Morton Salt's outstanding salesman of the year, Nick broke his leg in a local rodeo show which abruptly ended his sales career.

During the months of recuperation, Nick decided to fulfill his dream, that of riding the length of Mexico on horseback. So in 1939 at the age of 22, Nick and a friend, Tex Bunteen, spent 39 days riding nearly 1400 miles from Del Rio, Texas to well south of Mexico City.

On April 1, 1942 Nick and Margaret Beucher celebrated the birth of their first child, and the opening of Nick's brokerage business, Packing House By-Products Company. In the years to follow the Chicago-based firm grew to include the buying and selling of cattle by-products worldwide for meat, tallow for soap, and feeds and hides for leather. The brokerage aspect alone included offices in Chicago, Boston, and Jersey City with a staff of 35 brokers.

In 1964 Nick responded to a Wall Street Journal advertisement and acquired the Floridan Country Club of Howey-in-the-Hills. The initial years were spent renovating and expanding the 1950's clubhouse, as well as completely restructuring the badly neglected 18-hole golf course, installing automatic irrigation and planting hundreds of trees. In 1969 the decision was made to create a captivating Spanish Colonial golf resort complete with overnight accommodations and to name it Mission Inn Golf and Tennis Resort. By 1973 the leather and meat industries were changing so Nick decided to retire his brokerage firm and devote himself entirely to developing the resort business.

Over the years members of Nick's family of six children have joined the business and actively operate the resort today. The Mission Inn Resort & Club you witness today is a direct reflection of the vision and tireless efforts of Nick Beucher and his entire family.

The 14th oldest resort course in Florida, Mission Inn Resort & Club's original layout, El Campeón (1917), is consistently ranked in the top 10 of Florida's 1400 courses. El Campeón was recently recognized by the Florida Department of State as a member of the Florida Historic Golf Trail. The tradition of a great layout continues to be honored and recognized by Golf Advisor's consistent ranking of El Campeón in the BEST OF category 2015-present. Las Colinas (1992), the 18-hole championship course designed by Gary Koch, former PGA Tour Player, and redesigned by Ron Garl, was nominated for "Best New Resort Course" by Golf Digest, and ranks in Golf Week's Top 25 courses in Florida. Both courses have been host to a number of collegiate conference qualifiers as well as NCAA DIII Men's and Women's Championships; NCAA DII Regionals and Super Regionals.

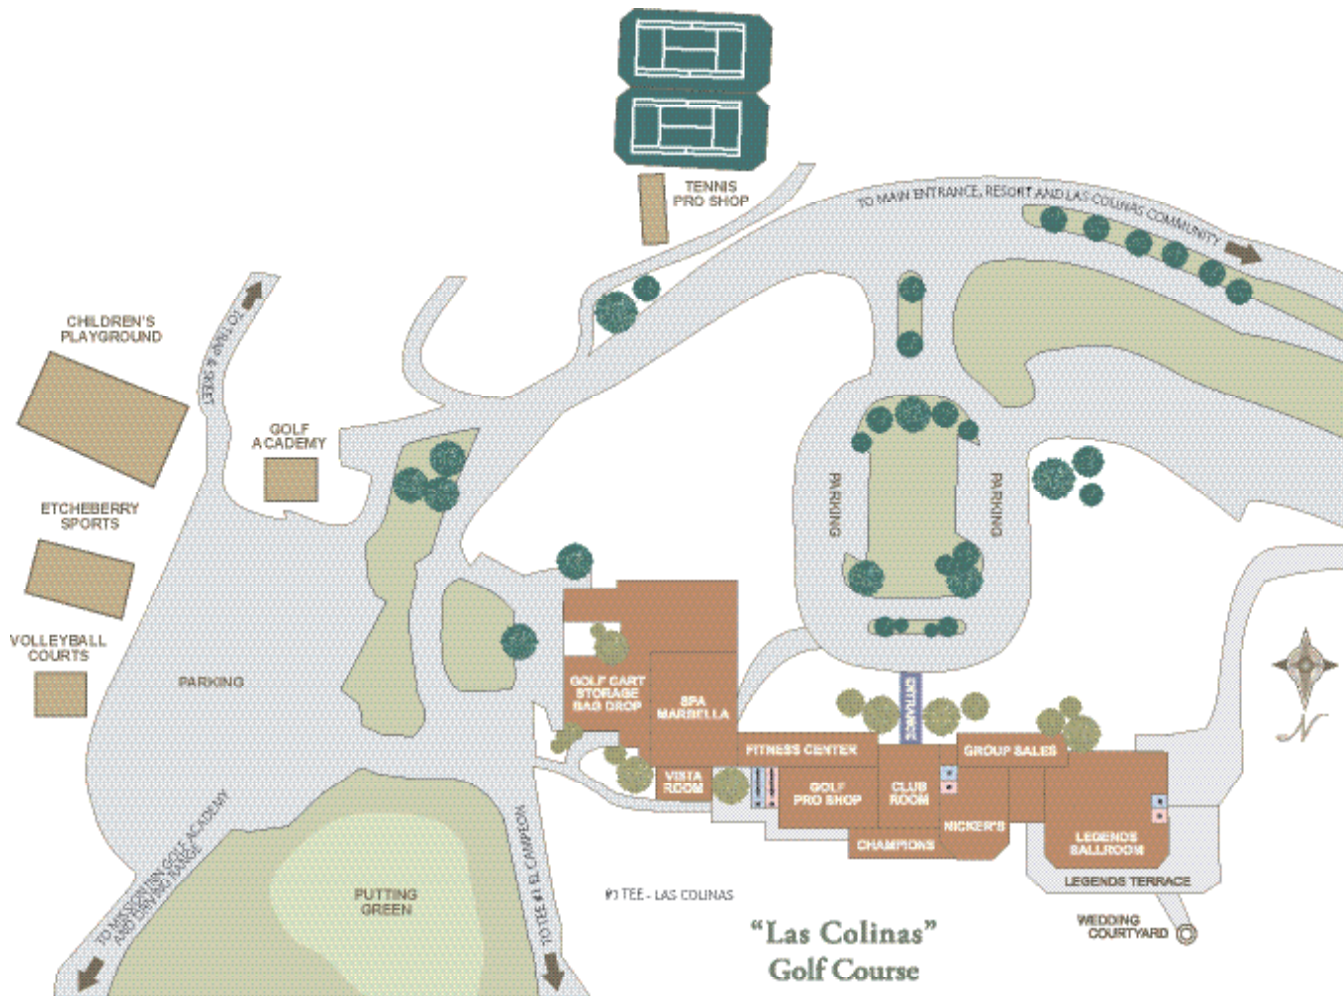

In January, 1992 the resort also opened a spectacular clubhouse featuring "Nicker's", a casual restaurant and lounge. In 1996 the clubhouse was expanded to include Legends Ballroom, a banquet room and terrace. Champions Lounge was added to the clubhouse in 1998. Spa Marbella was completed and opened in 2008.

Today Mission Inn Resort & Club features 176 guest rooms as well as suites, villas and condominiums in addition to 30,000 square feet of flexible meeting space for banquets, meetings, weddings and other special functions. The resort's Marina del Rey, located on Lake Harris, offers guests and visitors of charter and rental opportunities for fishing, boating, and eco-touring the most beautiful chain of lakes in Central Florida. One of Florida's largest Adventure Learning courses for groups is located at the 50 acre marina site. There's also a picturesque waterfront setting that creates an engaging outdoor site with the look and feel of "Old Florida". Mission Inn's Marina del Rey Pavilion has a spectacular view of Lake Harris and is the ideal venue for events or weddings. From El Cazador Trap and Skeet range to the tranquility of Spa Marbella, it's all here at Mission Inn Resort & Club.

Mission Inn Resort & Club's full service Real Estate division is now offering spectacular homes on Las Colinas as well as local area homes and land for sale. Throughout the resort ongoing programs of expansion and improvement continue to assure uncompromising luxury in service and accommodations for all guests. We hope that you discover and enjoy Mission Inn Resort & Club and what a special place it is to vacation, entertain, convene or simply relax.

TWO CHAMPIONSHIP COURSES

EL CAMPEÓN (The Champion)

---

El Campeón (The Champion), built in 1917, is one of the South's oldest golf courses. Course architect, George O'Neil, blended unusual elevation changes of more than 85 feet with features of traditional golf design. Rolling fairways and undulating greens only begin to characterize El Campeón. The tradition of a great layout continues to be honored and recognized by Golf Advisor's consistent ranking of El Campeón in the BEST OF category 2015-present. Ranked #1 in Florida by Golf Advisor since 2012, El Campeón is also listed in Zagats "America's Top Courses", Links Magazine "Top 100 Golf Courses" and "Number One Golf Course" by the National Golf Course Owners Association. The 7015 yard course's signature hole is the 556 par 5, 17th, a long, double dog leg that has more obstacles than some entire golf courses.

- El Campeón "The Champion" opened in 1917
- Course Architect, George O'Neil, Chicago, IL
- One of the oldest courses in Florida

LAS COLINAS (The Hills)

Las Colinas (The Hills), originally designed by Gary Koch, former PGA Tour Player, is a recipient of the "Top Fairways" recognition by Golf for Women. Las Colinas is also host to the NCAA Women's Division III Championships. The 7230 yard course offers quite a different set of challenges from El Campeón. Its more open fairways and gently rolling hills create an inland links design. Greens are large and undulating, while the course's classic old architecture style still demands proper shot placement.

- Designed in 1992
- Course Architect, Gary Koch, PGA Tour Player
- Nominated as "Best New Resort Course" by Golf Digest
- Golf for Women's "Top Fairways" Award
- One of GolfWeek's "Top 25 in Florida"
